DESIGN AND QUALITY

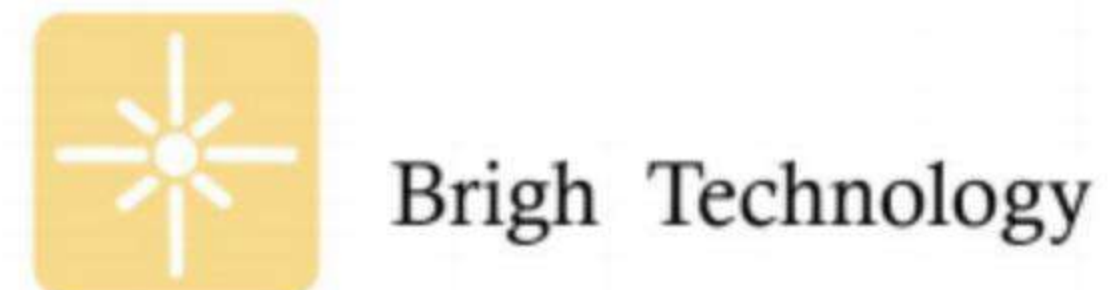

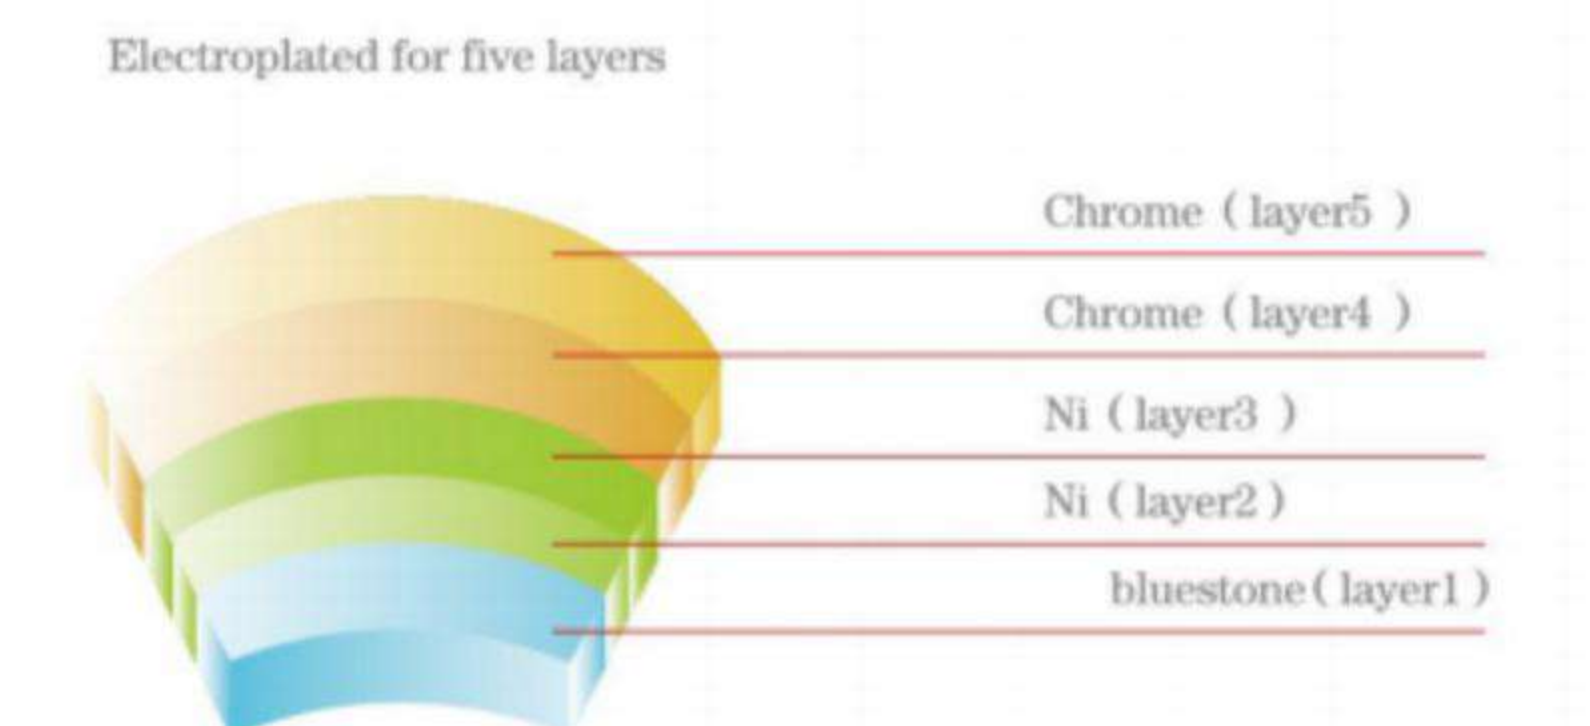

Requirements for faucet processing and assembly

1. No obvious defects such as sand holes, shrinkage holes, cracks and pores shall be allowed on the surface of the casting. The core sand, metal chips and impurities attached to the inner cavity shall be cleaned up.
2. There should be no pits, broken teeth or other obvious defects on the surface of the thread. Surface roughness Ra is not greater than 3.2um. The thread precision of the product's installed connecting pipe shall meet the relevant standards and requirements for the accuracy level, that is, the thread gauge (thread plug gauge, thread ring gauge) shall be used for inspection during the thread processing.
3. The surface of plastic parts shall not have obvious packing spots, ripples, shrinkage marks, warping and weld marks, and shall not have obvious scratches, scratches, modified damage and active scale.
4. The label of cold and hot water should be clear. Blue (or C or cold) means cold water, and red (or H or hot) means hot water. The double-control water pumping cold water sign is on the right, and the hot water sign is on the left. The connection should be firm. The wheel handle should be turned counterclockwise to open, and clockwise to close.
5. The assembled handle should be smooth, light and free of jamming. Handle and stem should be firmly connected and not loose.

Faucet plating quality selection

1. Ensure the internal and external quality of electroplating coating; control the thickness of electroplating decorative protective coating in the factory: copper plating thickness of steel substrate on the surface of faucet is greater than 15 microns; chromium layer thickness is greater than 0.25 microns.
 2. Handle (handwheel) made of zinc alloy with zinc base copper plating thickness greater than 15 microns: nickel layer thickness greater than 10 microns; chromium layer thickness greater than 0.25 microns.
 3. Flower wine or top mirror made of engineering plastics; copper plating thickness of plastic matrix is more than 10 microns; Nickel layer greater than 10 microns, chromium layer thickness greater than 0.25 microns.
- Chromium: 0.08-0.1um, Nickel: GUM (the thinnest coating)
